

[Name of Committee]

[Delegate's Position]

[Opening Regards]

[The introduction paragraph should focus on widespread information surrounding the committee. Notably, the reader should be able to pick out a clear overview of the committee's topics, the history of the committee (with relevant dates included), and a description of where the committee will take place. Further, it should include a general description of the countries or characters that have been or will be most affected by the committee.]

[The second paragraph should cover the delegate's individual position. This should include a history of the position's participation in the overarching topic, facts and statistics of the position's stance, existing alliances between the position and other positions present in the committee, and position influences/desires.]

[The third paragraph should cover the position's policy suggestions and recommendations that they hope to bring to the committee. These should be comprehensive, innovative, and well-developed while maintaining realism and practicality. If policy proposals are based on existing policies, include facts and statistics to show how the new policy would be successful.]

Work Cited

[Include a work cited for each outside resource you used for the paper. This can be in MLA, Chicago, or any other format. Papers that do not include proper citations will be penalized.]